Antje Janssen
IVD Manager
In Vitro Diagnostic Devices (IVD) Section
Therapeutic Goods Administration

Antje comes from a research science background with a focus on molecular biology and virology. Her diagnostics experience comes from working in private industry, government, and international organizations. Antje has spent the past two years with the Diagnostics and Laboratory Technology team in the World Health Organization and has recently returned to a regulatory role within the TGA. As the IVD manager, Antje's current focus is on the development of the proposed new in vitro diagnostic regulatory framework.
