Paul Cheever
Consultant
Access Capital Advisers

Over the past 38 years, Paul Cheever has held senior executive positions in merchant banking, banking, resources, investment and strategic consulting organisations, including senior finance roles in two top twenty Australian listed companies. He has often been associated with innovation, first in the 1970s and 1980s in connection with developments in Australia's and global financial markets, and in this decade in the building of Australia's largest institutional venture capital portfolio. Recognition of his knowledge and experience has led to his past appointment as Chair of the Regulatory Committee of the Alternative Investment Management Association and Chair of the superannuation industry's Best Practice

Committee. During the latter tenure, he led the development of ASFA's Risk Management Papers, which have received wide acclaim.

Paul has been heavily involved in venture capital on behalf of Access Capital Advisers' clients over the past 8 years, evaluating venture managers, designing and executing a venture co-investment program and building commercialisation relationships. He is recognised as the designer of today's new Commercialisation Collaborations which have brought long term institutional capital together with the new life science and other technologies emerging from Australia's leading Universities and Medical Research Institutes.

Paul holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Washington & Lee University, a Master of Business Administration from the University of Michigan and is a Fellow of FINSIA.
